ROLAND WILLIAMS TREATS HUNGRY
CONSTRUCTION WORKERS TO LUNCH

St. Louis, September 16, 2009 – Today, September 16th, 2009, Roland Williams, former tight end for the St. Louis Rams, will be satisfying hungry construction workers by offering free Angus Burgers. As an official McDonald's® Angus Ambassador, Roland Williams will be giving “Angus Upgrades” to those working for HBD Construction at the Paradowski Creative project, located at 1910 Locust Street, between 10 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.

Roland and the McDonald's Street Team will meet with construction workers during their break at 10 a.m. to take lunch orders. Around 12 p.m. Roland and the Street Team will return with lunch that includes savory Angus Third Pounders, McDonald's World Famous Fries® and Coca-Cola® products.

This event is part of the “Angus Upgrade” promotion taking place in the St. Louis area. Throughout September St. Louisians will notice a black Angus limo giving out free Angus coupons all around their communities.

The Angus Third Pounders were introduced to the St. Louis community in early July. Now, for a limited time, customers can choose from three varieties of the Angus Third Pounders including the Deluxe, Bacon & Cheese and Mushroom & Swiss.

“We're constantly aiming to bring tasty, new menu choices to our customers,” said Mike Klak, McDonald's St. Louis/Metro East Co-op President. “With the introduction of the Angus Third Pounder, our customers are getting a premium Angus burger experience, with the everyday value, quality and convenience they've come to expect from McDonald's.” The new line marks McDonald's first new burger offering since the Big N' Tasty® burger was added to the menu in 2001. For more details about the Angus Third Pounders, please see the attached document.
